

A note from St. Madeleine's Elementary School

Thank you for your beautiful donation.

The aquarium in the class was a great addition. It actually does work to change the temper of a child when having a tantrum.

Pets are known to have a positive effect on children and more for kids with Autism. A strategy that my students learn is to go and stand by the aquarium to relax or just to change ideas and lower the stress level.

I recommend an aquarium in all classrooms and more for special need classes.

Thank you!

The fish tank in the autism classroom has been very well received. It has become one of the focal points of the classroom and each day the students greet the fish in the morning and say their good-byes each afternoon.

Funny enough, ALL of the fish in the aquarium are named, "Nemo".

Throughout the week, the students take turns feeding the fish, which has become a much sought after job in the classroom. It was an absolutely wonderful donation by PJ's and has brought so much happiness and excitement to these children.
